Warm, clear, professional. Naturally neutral international English!

Andy is a Kiwi-born, internationally educated native English-speaking voiceover artist whose uniquely international, naturally neutral sound has been honed over almost 10 years of experience working for commercial and industrial clients, providing voiceovers for museum and tourist audioguides, academic audiobooks – and much, much more!

Born in New Zealand, and having spent his teenage years as an 'expat brat' at British international schools in Bangkok and Singapore, he completed his education at the University of Melbourne, Australia. He is now based in continental Europe where he runs a language services business and continues to develop his voiceover skills and experience.

With richly varied life experience and a wide range of voiceover work on his resume, Andy is the perfect choice for your naturally neutral international English voiceover!
